With Mom on the mend, Leah Bonnema brings laughs to troops in Iraq

HUMOR IN UNIFORM—Leah Bonnema and her fiancé, Dustin Chafin, flew a C-130 between comedy gigs in Iraq.

By ALISON ALOISIO

In January stand-up comic and Bethel native Leah Bonnema was preparing to go to Iraq to help entertain American troops.

Then she got word her mom, Melody, had been critically injured in a car accident in Pennsylvania.

Leah, who lives and works in New York City, hurried to her mother's side.

Melody and Leah's dad, Garret, are Bethel residents. As he drove down from Maine, Leah kept him updated on the doctors' struggle to save Melody's life.

Early on, the prognosis was not good. Melody was in a coma for four weeks.

"As [the time to go to Iraq] got closer, I was thinking more and more that I would back out," said Leah.

"Then Mom woke up two weeks before and said, 'go.'"

A calling to comedy

Leah has been involved in comedy for about three years. A 1995 Gould Academy grad, she majored in film at McGill University. In 2001 she decided to go back to school to study acting.

"As [the time to go to Iraq] got closer, I was thinking more and more that I would back out," said Leah. "Then Mom woke up two weeks before and said, 'Go.'"

She attended the American Academy of Dramatic Arts where, she said, "I was pulled into improv."

She started doing comedy in open mike settings. After seeing her work, the director at one club suggested Leah take a class in standup comedy.

She did, and was soon going out alone in front of people regularly to try to make them laugh.

"It's terrifying," she said. "Your heart is in your throat. But it feels so good when it's right."

As for her material, "I did a lot of relatives stuff, about my family."

She said her dad has a good sense of humor. That, combined with her mother's tendency "to say what she thinks," helped shape her own comedic view.

Leah also served as the host of a comedy club. Before bringing other comics out on stage, "I would just talk to people about what had happened that day," she said. "My jokes are more like stories."

She also utilized some political topics for her material, she said.

As her own biographical account describes, "No matter your age, race, gender or religion."

School Board calls for deeper cuts to budget draft for coming year

By ALISON ALOISIO

In preparing a tentative FY'09 school budget, SAD44 administrators have cut roughly $450,000 from their own initial proposal.

But in order to make the bottom line palatable to taxpayers, the School Board Monday directed Superintendent Dave Murphy to find another $200,000.

The further reduction would still translate to an average 5 percent increase to the local tax share of what will be a $10 million budget.

Making up a deficit

SAD44 faces a cut in state aid next year of approximately $200,000. That, combined with fixed-cost increases (such as salaries and fuel) and a Region 9 share increase for facility construction "puts us $900,000 in the hole," Murphy told directors.

Roughly estimated, reduc-

Paddling public invited to pitch in for spring cleaning along the river

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Starting afresh on a chore begun several years ago, then largely neglected until this year, on Thursday, May 15, students from the Telstar Challenge Course at Telstar High School will clean up the banks and shallows of more than 10 miles the Androscoggin River between Gilead and Bethel.

And anyone with a canoe or kayak who would like to help out is more than welcome to paddle and pull right along with them.

The local effort is part of the National River Cleanup and is sponsored by the Upper Androscoggin Alliance, which hopes to make it an annual affair.

This year's local plan of action calls for 20 Telstar students, ages 16-18, to float down the river in rafts, armed with garbage bags and towing garbage-scow rafts.

They will collect and bag smaller debris found along the riverbanks, and, where possi-

Skiway's lighting plan casts deep shadow over Newry postage budget

By ALISON ALOISIO

At a cost of $3,400, the town of Newry this week sent out notices of a public hearing on night skiing to 600 Sunday River condo owners.

And as a result, town officials are considering changing details of the ordinance that requires the notification.

The ordinance stipulates public hearing notification to abutters be sent by certified mail—at a cost of more than $5 for each letter.

"That's half our postage budget," administrative assistant Loretta Powers told selectmen Monday.

The hearing on Sunday River's proposal to offer "12-hour skiing" is scheduled for May 7.

In the past, notification of skiway projects has been sent only to the boards of directors of the condominium associations. The boards, in turn, sent on notification to

DUMONT RETURNS

HOME TO BREAK

WORLD RECORD

On Friday at Sunday River Ski Resort, X-Games skier Simon Dumont of Bethel broke the world record for highest air on a quarterpipe. Dumont executed a corked 900 tail grab, peaking at a height of 35 feet above the top of the quarterpipe. The 38-foot quarterpipe, built by Snow Park Technologies with support from the Sunday River Park crew, is the largest quarterpipe ever constructed. Norwegian Terje Haakonsen held the previous world record at 32.5 feet. "I'm really glad to have pulled this off in my backyard at Sunday River where I started my ski career. The fans from the East have always been super supportive. That makes breaking this record at home even sweeter." The attempts began Tuesday morning. Dumont began hitting the quarter pipe in the early afternoon, when he reached heights as high as 28 feet before drifting in the air and falling nearly 66 feet onto the snow below. Dumont's hard-hitting landing caused him to bruise his heel and aggravate an existing knee injury. He returned to the hill on Wednesday, but was plagued by his injuries and was forced to recuperate for the rest of the day. Thursday was disrupted by high winds. Friday morning, Dumont made his final attempts. After an hour of repeatedly hitting the quarter pipe, he finally hiked an additional 15 feet up the hill to gain more speed. He crouched into a tucked position, going 55 mph down the in run, and not only launched 35 feet into the air, but spun a 900 in the process (a trick where the athlete spins 2.5 complete rotations in the air). Construction of the quarterpipe took two weeks.

Changing economic times strain Berlin-Gorham

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Despite the tough economic times facing the Berlin-Gorham area, residents remain optimistic about the future, according to a new survey.

The survey said Coos County is at a point of fundamental change as the region looks to create a new economy to replace the loss of forest-based jobs.

The impact of the current changes has hit particularly hard at residents described as in the "middle"—in age and income.

Thirty-five percent of those from the Berlin-Gorham area said they are financially worse off than they were five years ago; 32 percent said they are about the same. Only a third said they are better off now.

Despite those figures, 52 percent said they feel the valley will be a better place in 10 years. Twenty-eight percent predicted it will be worse.

The survey was conducted by Chris Colocousis of the Carsey Institute at the University of New Hampshire.

Colocousis interviewed 1,000 adults in Coos County and 750 in Oxford, Maine, last year for his survey, "Community and Environment in Rural America." He previewed some of his findings at a meeting last week of the Berlin master plan subcommittee.

HONEST, CONCERNED, CARING

To the Editor:

Over a period of three years I have had an opportunity to know the Bethel police. I found Chief Carr to be honest, concerned and caring. He cares about the community and is concerned about his officers. In my opinion they are overworked and underpaid. These men put their life in danger every day.

I would think the people of Bethel would benefit greatly with a police department they know and can count on. If we train them, send them to the Police Academy, then have them move on, how do we benefit? If we have a department that could stay here (financially), raise families and be a part of our community, we win.

Chief Carr, as I know him, wants what is best for our community. He has a big heart and is here to help. Power has not influenced who he is.

WOMEN IN THE OUTDOORS

To the Editor:

Exciting opportunities await you in the Great Outdoors! Polly Mahoney of Mahoosuc Guide Service shares life experiences of survival in the Yukon and extensive adventure as a Maine Master Guide.

The Western Maine Women's Connection invites everyone to the April event, "Women in the Great Outdoors." If you've ever thought you might want to experience and learn more about the thrill and excitement of new adventures and new places — hear more about how you can join Polly for a canoe trip down the Missouri River in Montana, or see wildlife such as moose, otter, eagle and osprey on a trip down the Maine Allagash River. Join a dogsled team and tour the beautiful winter trails in Maine. It's right in your backyard.

Learn all about the opportunities that are right around the corner and experience nature on a whole new level. This event will give you all the information you will need to get started plus bonus presentations by Polly with slideshow demonstration.

Polly Mahoney is co-owner of Mahoosuc Guide Service, located in Newry. She is a native Mainer with extensive outdoor experience. For ten years she lived a subsistence lifestyle in the bush of the Yukon Territory. Her Yukon huskies were essential to survival. They hauled wood, water, and were the primary transportation in winter. She and her huskies were featured in the movie, "Never Cry Wolf." Seldom has a musher achieved the degree of friendship, loyalty and obedience from a dog team that Polly has accomplished. She has extensive canoe expedition experience into remote areas of the Yukon and British Columbia.

Polly's soft-spoken manner and patient style go well with the wilderness she works in. She has emergency medical training as a Wilderness First Responder and is a certified instructor for Outward Bound. Polly is also a registered Maine Master Guide.

This event will be held at the new Mahoosuc Mountain Lodge in Newry on Tuesday, April 22, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Refreshments are included, as well as the opportunity to network, meet new business associates and make new friends. So join us April 22 for Women in the Great Outdoors. Register online at www.westernmainewomensnetwork.org or call Mariel Geiger at 739-2013.

ST. NEVER'S DAY SALE

To the Editor:

Thoughts of spring are beginning to come to pass with many of us and with that development inclinations to begin spring housecleaning often arise. Once more the Bethel Historical Society is planning its annual St. Never's Day Sale for Saturday, May 24, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

We again need usable items in good condition (no clothing or computer equipment please) for the sale, which last year set a record for the number and variety of donated "treasures." The sale will take place under a tent at the very visible corner of Bethel's Mason and Broad streets and anyone wishing to rent space (a three-foot by six-foot table) for $20 is urged to come and join the fun.

To reserve a space, please call the society office at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910. Donated items may be left on my side porch at 18 Broad Street or on the back porch of the society's Robinson House at any time.

Thanks again to all those who helped us last year. We hope that you and many others can provide donations for the sale again this year. All proceeds go toward the society's operational expenses.

To the Editor:

Once again the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce is excited to take the opportunity to recognize a business that has made significant strides in the past year, deserving community supporters, a forest products industry entrepreneur, and excellent employees who have made extraordinary contributions to their workplaces.

On Friday, May 9, the 39th annual Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce Awards Dinner, sponsored by W.J. Wheeler & Co., Inc. Oxford Networks, and Sunday River Ski Resort, will be held at the Grand Summit Hotel at Sunday River. Cost is $35 per person for a complete buffet dinner. For reservations, call the chamber office, 824-2282, no later than Monday, May 5. Payment options include credit cards, check, or cash, and prepayment is required. Social hour begins at 6 p.m. accompanied by a silent auction, featuring dozens of items donated by chamber members and friends. The dinner will be served promptly at 7 p.m.

Chosen by the Awards Dinner Committee, we are pleased to announce and congratulate the following business and individuals for their selection as recipients this year. Jim Mann, owner of Mt. Mann Jewelers is being presented the 2008 Business of the Year Award. Jim is being recognized for his nearly 20 years of excellence as a small business on Main Street, Bethel as well as his civic-minded support of many of the area nonprofits. He, with the support of a donor, is in the process of putting together a world-class collection of western Maine gems to eventually be housed in the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center.

The 2008 Forest Products Industry Award will be awarded to Ronnie Hanscom, a 40-year veteran of the sawmill operations of what is now the Hancock Lumber facility in Bethel. Ronnie has also been active with the Bethel Ambulance Service and at the West Bethel Union Church.

The 2008 Lifetime Achievement Award is being presented, posthumously, to William (Bill) Cousins. In the nomination by his daughter, Carolyn Krahn, Bill is remembered as an active participant in all facets of Bethel area life, including the SAD44 School Board, Bethel Town Meeting moderator, the Masonic Lodge, the Shriners, Maine Handicapped Skiing and more. He lived life to its fullest until his death in July 2007.

Brad Jerome, director of Sales and Marketing for the Bethel Inn Resort, will be presented the President's Award for his devotion and service to the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. Brad has served on the chamber's Board of Directors going on six years; he is the immediate past president of the Board of Directors. Donating so many hours to chamber work, he has served on the Marketing Committee, has overseen the Golf Committee for several years, and has been a tremendous help on many other chamber projects.

The 2008 Public Service Award will be given to Don Katlin of the Bethel Water District. Don is being cited for his 29 years of service to the people of Bethel and his sustained and stalwart efforts during the 2007 flood disaster and the remediation and recovery efforts.

A new award this year is the Bethel Area Non-Profit Award. The Western Mountains Senior College nominated Rosabelle Tift, a tireless champion of the organization for the past 3½ years. She has helped grow the membership, chaired or co-chaired several of their successful programs and has been a cheerful team leader and "can-do" team member who is a joy to work with.

The chamber presents Employee of the Year Awards in four categories. Receiving the Education Award is Burnie Rice, a 35-year veteran employee of SAD44 in a number of capacities, most recently as supervisor of buildings, grounds and maintenance. Burnie has been willing to take on the additional responsibilities of transportation supervisor and has built a strong relationship with staff, students and parents in the district. Michele Mador, a dedicated waitress at the Rooster's Roadhouse, is being presented the Hospitality Employee of the Year. Michele has been with the business since the doors opened in November of 2004. She personifies hospitality with her customers, always going the extra mile. As her employers cite, Michele's hospitality ethic does not stop with her employment with them. She can be found a couple days a week at the Good Food Store and she also runs her own business, the Pleasant River Campground, with her husband Mike. Receiving the 2008 Retail and Service Employee of the Year is Lori Royer, a dedicated and loyal manager at Designs. Janet Black, the owner of Designs, has recently relocated for a good part of the year to Florida and has left the business in Lori's capable hands. From working with brides, to the home décor end of the business, as well as hands-on deliveries, Lori does all these jobs with a smile and a customer service attitude. The 2008 Ski Industry Employee of the Year Award is being presented this year to the entire Lift Operations Department of Sunday River Ski Resort. Nominated by Marvin Collins, the lift operators are being recognized for their long arduous hours of work to ensure that the guest skiing experience is the best it can be. The staff has been exemplary this year, receiving the highest compliments from the guests!

The chamber also presents three Telstar High School students with awards. Christopher Philip Schwarz, son of Peter and Kathy Schwarz, is receiving the Taste of Bethel Award in his pursuit of post-secondary training in Hospitality Management. Two students will be presented with Student Citizenship Awards: Esther Julia Pew, daughter of Sid and Eileen Pew of East Andover, and Andrew Robert Whitney son of Rick and Ellen Whitney of Bethel. These three students were selected by the staff at Telstar High School and have been cited in exemplifying the highest qualities of school and community citizenship.

Volunteer of the Year is the one surprise award of the evening. The emcee of the event will be Dr. David Murphy of Bethel. Our frequent host, Dave keeps the evening lively and memorable.

There will be a follow-up letter to the editor in next week's edition of The Bethel Citizen to announce the selection of the coveted Henry H. Hastings Award for Citizenship.

Once again, all community members are welcome to RSVP by May 5 to 824-2282, to reserve a seat at this wonderful celebration.

BPD's Fillmore gets his men

BETHEL—On Tuesday night, Bethel Police Officer Travis Fillmore apprehended four men fleeing the scene of a home invasion in Hanover. According to Fillmore's incident report, he was patrolling when he heard the report of a home invasion with shots fired. The information provided was that the suspect vehicle was a pickup truck with two males. Fillmore headed east on Route 2. As he neared the transfer station in Bethel, he met a pickup truck. He turned around and followed it, and the truck appeared to speed up. After cresting a hill, Fillmore found the truck had turned off its headlights. He turned on his blue lights. The truck then turned its headlights back on, but did not pull over immediately. The pickup eventually stopped just before the Martin Road. Fillmore observed four male occupants inside. He ordered them to put their hands where he could see them, and approached the truck. The back was full of rifles. Each occupant was ordered out of the vehicle one at a time "and placed in mechanical restraints." The four men, Barry Vallancourt-Lock, Matthew Gauthier, Craig LeBlanc and Bradley LeBlanc, all from the Gorham/Berlin, N.H. area, were turned over to the Oxford County Sheriff's Department. The guns were reportedly taken from the home, and the homeowner fired at the men as they ran away. None were struck.

Fire truck process moves on

ANDOVER—After listening to a tape of the March 15 Town Meeting, Andover selectmen concluded that Fire Chief Ken Dixon did not intend to mislead voters regarding a deadline for signing a contract for construction of a new fire truck. But, they said, the information he provided was misleading. The selectmen said at last week's board meeting that as a result of what Dixon said, many voters believed Andover needed to sign a contract for the construction of the truck by early April. With some expressing concern about the relatively short time frame, voters declined to form a special committee to oversee the specifications for the vehicle. After the Town Meeting, the board researched the timeframe question and, they said, found the timeline provided by FEMA was a guideline, not a strict requirement. The grant, awarded in mid-February, stipulates the town must take delivery of the truck within a year in order to receive the grant funds. Selectman Hope Peterson said the Maine Municipal Association told the board that incorrect information provided by a town official at a town meeting cannot invalidate a vote. Selectmen said Tuesday they will now simply focus on trying to control the cost of the truck (approximately $350,000). In an April 12 letter to selectmen, Rob Dixon, the AFD's First Asst. Chief, defended the information provided at the Town Meeting. "I acknowledge that other than the period of performance closeout date of Feb. 14, 2009, there are not hard and fast dates that must be met during this process...the basis of Chief Dixon's statement(s) is in response to concerns by apparatus manufacturers and dealers that insufficient lead-time may cause them not to meet the grant-imposed delivery date. I personally have had this concern expressed to me by equipment representatives of [two companies] prior to the March 15 Town Meeting." Another company said it could not meet the delivery date, he said. "My point of view that Chief Dixon accurately stated the urgency of entering into a contract with a manufacturer, and my opinion that a citizen committee most likely would significantly delay this, was generally expressed to selectperson Sue Merrow on April 8 [prior to the selectmen's meeting]."

Disciplinary hearing for lawyer

PORTLAND—A Rumford lawyer who is spearheading a referendum to bring a casino to Oxford County is the subject of a disciplinary hearing by a panel looking into allegations of misconduct. Complaints filed by other attorneys and a judge against Seth Carey allege that he approached clients of other lawyers to speak with them about their cases. The disciplinary hearing is being held before a grievance commission appointed by the Maine Board of Overseers of the Bar. The panel typically issues decisions two to three weeks after a hearing. Carey's group, Evergreen Mountain Enterprises, wants to operate a casino in western Maine. Mainers will vote on his proposal in November.

HOME COMING,
CONCERT PLANNED

Melody Bonnema (center), who was critically injured in a Pennsylvania car accident in January, returned home to Bethel Friday night after months of surgery and rehabilitation. Immediately after the accident, she had abdominal surgery, but was given only a 25 percent chance of survival. She was in a coma in ICU for four weeks. During that time, her husband, Garret (left), daughter Leah (right) and Leah's fiancé Dustin Chapin read and talked to her, played music and held her hand. On Feb. 19, Garret arrived at the hospital and said, "Good morning" to Melody as usual. She whispered back, "Good morning." The trauma surgeon, observing her responsiveness himself, "was so happy he called his wife to tell her the news," said Garret. She was eventually moved to New England Rehab in Portland for therapy. Now home, she is able to walk with a walker or a cane, and climb stairs. She still suffers from double vision, and is scheduled for two more surgeries. A benefit concert for the Bonnemas entitled "An Evening of Melody" is scheduled for May 17 at 7 p.m. at Gould Academy's Bingham Hall. Performers include Jewel Clark, Ross Timberlake, Conni St. Pierre, Amy Green, Sammy Chapman, Jim McLaughlin, Donnie Katlin, Paul Farrar, Pat Malia, Tony Andrews, Rolly York and Doug Alford. Tickets are $10 at the door.

religion, Bonnema's honest and insightful outlook on life gives her a unique and promising voice that is sure to leave you laughing, and perhaps with a new perspective of your own."

In 2004, she received a grant to write and perform her own one-woman show.

"The show addressed the struggle of self-acceptance and Bonnema's own path of a small-town girl moved to a big city."

"Through comedy and spoken word, she highlighted the importance of storytelling and the power of embracing difference."

An overseas invitation

Last fall Leah's fiancé, another comic, was going to the Middle East to entertain the troops.

He invited Leah and a third entertainer to come along.

They were scheduled to leave March 10.

But her plans were threatened in January, when her mother was badly injured.

Immediately after the accident, there was a huge outpouring of support for the family from friends back home.

"We felt scared and isolated," Leah said. "But we felt incredibly supported by Bethel."

She saw some similarity to the situation in which American soldiers find themselves.

"I feel that's predominantly why I decided to go to Iraq," she said. "I know how important it is that people care."

Making them laugh

The tour included stops in Bahrain, Djibouti, Kuwait and Iraq.

The three comics flew between bases on a C-130 transport plane.

Bahrain was the first stop and, it turned out, a good place to warm up for the tour.

"It was more like a college campus," said Leah. "It got me on my feet."

She got the warmup first in a bar setting with an audience of about 75, she said.

With restrictions on political jokes and no opportunity to "work the crowd," said Leah, "I had to take out half my set."

But she adapted to the circumstances.

"I started writing jokes about my experience over there," she said.

When she first arrived in Iraq, material for one joke met her at the airport.

Military greeters told her, "We always get bombed on Wednesdays. ... But we do have shrimp tonight in the cafeteria."

The group spent 10 days in Iraq at two locations, in the north and in the south.

Leah said she and her companions were restricted to the military bases, and saw few Iraqis.

But she met many American servicemen.

"They would come up after the show, and tell us about their jobs," she said. "I always thanked them."

The servicemen also gave the entertainers a taste of their work.

Leah tested her marksmanship at a shooting range, sat in the cockpit of a C-130 and took the controls of a small Navy boat in the Persian Gulf.

She admitted she felt nervous at the first base on Wednesday.

During one show, the Americans fired artillery from the base toward targets outside. The ground shook.

Not realizing who was doing the shooting, "I thought we were being bombed," she said.

Leah opened every show by asking if anyone in the audience was from Maine.

She met a few Mainers, but she also met many servicemen from other places who had come through the Bangor International Airport on their way to and from the Middle East.

For years now, veterans and other volunteers have greeted troops as they pass through the airport.

"They said they really appreciated that, and said how important it made them feel," said Leah.

The comics returned to the United States on March 27.

"I'd go again," said Leah. "I can't really help much, but if I can make people laugh, it helps for a second."

"While my mother was in the trauma unit, there were so many people dying. We were not in control. In Iraq, that's the way they feel every day."

TRUCKER KILLED—An Iowa trucker died Saturday morning when his westbound tractor trailer went off a curve on Route 2 in Gilead and rolled down an embankment. Leonard Pillatzki, 57, of Northwood, Ia. was pronounced dead at the scene. He had been partially ejected from the truck, which came to rest near railroad tracks. The truck was carrying cedar chips. Bethel Rescue responded to the scene. The Gilead and Bethel fire departments provided traffic control until the rig could be removed, late in the afternoon.

He served as president of Sunday River for 10 years and was directly involved in the sale of Sunday River to the Killington Corporation. He was recognized by the Maine Ski Association for his contribution to and positive involvement with Maine skiing. Last year, Mike was inducted into the Maine Ski Hall of Fame.

Other News

For the record, on April 9 the first biking contingent of the season went by, all pumping in unison and showing off the multicolored cycling gear of 12 bikers in all.

Robins returned en masse last Wednesday and flocks of sparrows showed up the next day.

Melody Bonnema is home from Pennsylvania. From what she has suffered through in the last months, her return is a miracle. Her recovery is due in no small part to the care, love and diligence of her family who probably has suffered almost as much as Melody. Also remarkably, the Bonnemas drew a thankful round of applause Sunday when the family arrived to attend services at the Congregational Church.

Also Sunday at the Congregational Church, Rosalind Chapman and Bertha Foster were honored to celebrate their 75 years of church membership. So that they can recall their long membership, each received a copy of the church's history, which dates from 1796 and as an organized society from Sept. 8, 1799 when the membership totaled 11. Steve Seames was accepted as an associate member by the congregation during Sunday's regular church service.

Legislature honors Rocky and Lisa Freda

The Legislature passed a special legislative sentiment last Tuesday sponsored by Rep. Timothy Carter, D-Bethel, ("Our Man in Augusta") to honor Bethel residents Rocky and Lisa Freda for their commitment to innovation in tourism. The couple had received the Maine Tourism Award for their accomplishments at the Governor's Conference on Tourism in February.

Locke Summit Estates - From Ideas to Ground Breaking Part One:
Step two of the new Locke Summit Estates development happened Saturday when the project's temporary sales office was delivered. The story of how this development evolved began with two people, Bill Dunton and David "Fuzzy" Thurston, who had similar ideas about how to best take advantage of prime land for a community that would exceed in level of quality anything already being offered around the Sunday River area. Last week Bill and Fuzzy sat down for over an hour to describe how they separately and then together planned what has turned out to be an exceptionally large undertaking that lies across town lines.

From Fuzzy's end, the idea took hold when in early 2004 he and a Nantucket party developed an interest in combining the old Gould Academy ski jump property (on the Bethel side of the town line) and 190 acres belonging to Stevens and Goodalls on the Newry side. The two parcels were separated by some family-owned (by 75-YEAR CHURCH MEMBERS—Bertha Foster (left) and Rosalind Chapman were honored Sunday as 75-year members of the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel. Here they chat about playing together as children "a few years back." They were each presented with "A History of the West Parish Congregational Church" by Rev. Virginia Rickeman during the service. A reception took place in the vestry following the service. Friends, family, and church members congratulated them and asked them about their memories of the church while enjoying coffee, snacks, and cake. Archivist Stephen Seames realized their long-standing church membership while researching church history/membership.

Murray Thurston and Rosalie Wight) land. After preliminary consultations with Main-Land Development it appeared that the Gould Academy piece would not support a road, so he and his partner demurred on that portion, while retaining their option on the Newry part. Even though that portion was then landlocked, he believed that there was great potential value in that section and retained his Option to Purchase. He felt that there was also a possibility of getting access through a lot left open by Bryce Yates when he laid out Valley View in the approach to the ski area but was not able to reach an accommodation with the owner on this approach.

Meanwhile, Bill Dunton had been exploring access road possibilities from the south end where the ski jump was located. Dunton was convinced that he could plot a road through the Gould parcel and asked Darryl Brown of Main-Land Development Consultants to re-look at the situation to determine if a road could be built to the top from the ski jump landing area. Darryl's after-investigation answer was: Yes. It is possible, but it also all depends more than anything on permits being granted. At one point, later, Darryl told Bill that the Locke Summit project was the most difficult project that he has undertaken in 38 years.

In 2005, Dunton made Gould Academy an offer, which the academy accepted. Before closing the deal, however, Bill Dunton brought in three more partners. They were Dave Frost of Dixfield, Morris "Rick" O'Connor of Bangor and Jim Nicols of Rumford, who had very extensive logging and forest road-building experience.

Then almost by accident, Bill and Fuzzy met one afternoon at White Cap Lodge. Fuzzy said his leading question that afternoon was, "Do you have a way to get up there?" The answer was yes. Dunton had the Gould Academy end plus a way to get into the landlocked parcels if he and Fuzzy joined together. Dunton was able to tell Fuzzy that he had snowshoed all over the Gould property and had already figured out a route that he thought would provide access to the other parcels if he and Fuzzy joined together. So when they did, and Fuzzy became the fifth partner, he brought the right of way through the Thurston family piece and the Stevens-Goodall piece along with

Having groused about the absence of wildlife last week, I'm happy to say that on Saturday morning Jake and I saw tracks of moose, partridge, and turkeys in the mud and slush on the forest road. I can actually navigate again without cleats on my boots, because most of the worst snow is gone, and lots of bare road is showing.

Here at the Hoehstead we're seeing many juncos in addition to the usual suspects. In addition, small groups of redpolls are helping themselves to the thistle seed. And now and then, one or more of the turkeys appear to peck at the corn that has been buried under snow cover. Next to the front step on the south side of the house there is a small patch of bare ground with daffodils coming up! Of course, most of the lawn is still buried under more than a foot of snow pack. This, too, shall pass!

The most exciting news I've heard this past week is that Maddie Costello has come home to West Bethel. Now about three months old, the wee one is basking in the love and attention of three generations of parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents. Lucky girl, and lucky family. Don't forget the March of Dimes!

The Pleasant Valley Grange has not been meeting during the harsh winter months, but it will convene again next week, Thursday, the 24th. Since this is Grange Month, members are allowed to bring guests to the dinner and meeting.

Last Thursday night was the annual meeting of the West Bethel Union Church. This is the time when all the business of the church is dealt with, such as concerns of the physical plant, as well as the appointment of deacons, treasurer, and so forth.

On April 9, the Bethel Senior Citizens met at the Locke Mills Legion Hall for dinner. They were entertained by the Yet to Be Named Banjo Band. One of these days, those guys

Happy April Birthday wishes to Jane Hosterman, Marilyn Gilbert, and Bud Kulik!

Last Thursday I took my granddaughter, Elisabeth Stancioff, to Brown University in Providence, R.I., for an accepted student revisit. I was able to go along on a campus tour and join in a very nice buffet luncheon on Friday. Brown has a lovely campus, and Providence is a charming city, in spite of the fact that there is always a lot of construction going on there. Parking is a problem, as is negotiating the one-way streets, but we managed just fine.

While Elisabeth spent Thursday night with an upper-classwoman who had graduated from Mount Blue High School a couple of years ago, I drove to Mattapoisett, Mass., to visit an old friend from the days when we lived there. She invited another old friend to join us for dinner, and we had a great gabfest and caught up on each other's lives. After Elisabeth attended an afternoon class on Friday, we headed back to Maine and met her parents in Auburn, from whence I returned to Bethel in the rain and fog.

Here's to more spring weather and the disappearance of the remaining snowbanks just fast enough to keep things moving, but not so fast that we have flooding.

Please let me hear from you with news, views, and observations. dhoeh@megalink.net; 836-3011.

East Bethel

Virginia Perham has had surgery recently and is doing very well.

Dot Bartlett, Nancy Kimball and Nancy Mercer attended the Bethel Senior Citizens group at the Legion Hall in Locke's Mills on April 9.

Alder River Grange may try for a meeting on April 25 at the Hall if the snow is gone by then.

Jay Hastings has been on a cruise recently to Saint Martin in the West Indies.

Bettyann Hastings and Muriel Butters were in Portland for the day recently.

Sonny Hastings, Ginny Gamble, Mary-Alice Bancroft, and Ann Morton were in Augusta on April 9 to hear and receive a tribute to Florence Hastings by the state Legislature.

Rose Dyer will celebrate her birthday on April 25.

The snow has been going fast this past week, and I guess it will go faster this coming week what with the temps into the high 50s.

God Bless the Troops.

Gilead

As I write this column on Sunday, the weather has changed from cold and miserable, to snowflakes and then to nice, warm sunshine. At this point it has settled on cold with wind and the occasional snowflake.

My brother, Steve McLain, had a visitor in his yard this past week. His two dogs, Laney and Spot, alerted him by barking at the window, and when he looked out the window there was nothing to be seen. After a few minutes an ermine appeared on the black driveway. Since it was white, it blended into the snow bank along the driveway. After checking out the area, it disappeared into the woods and has not been seen since.

The Gilead Fire Department responded to yet another accident this past weekend on the big curve between Taylor Flats and Bog Brook. The accident happened around 7:45 a.m. and the crew was on scene until 5:30 p.m. when the truck was removed from down over the embankment.

Selectmen's Meeting
The Board of Selectmen met on Wednesday, April 9, at the Town Office. This was the first meeting for Jeremy Morin, who was recently elected to serve as a selectman for a three-year term. The Board elected Mark Wigley to serve as chairman for this year.

After some questions regarding the budget, the selectmen signed appointment sheets for the upcoming year for the Planning Board, sexton, animal control officer, ballot clerks, fire chief, fire warden, administrative assistant and health officer.

The Selectmen decided that it would be a standard practice that if a regular meeting (second Wednesday of the month) had to be cancelled for any reason, it would be held the next week. There will be a list of meeting dates on the website soon.

Jeremy Morin would serve as the general contractor for the new Town Office renovations. There will be an ad in the paper for subcontractors to contact him regarding bidding on the project.

There is also a website set up for the town of Gilead now. There will be information regarding meetings of the selectmen, the Planning Board and the Comprehensive Planning Committee. This will be another means for the residents of the town to know what is going on in town. Other ways to find out about meetings besides this column are notices in the present Town Office and posters and handouts at the Transfer Station. Please be patient with the website, since it is a work in progress and there is still a lot of work that needs to be done to it. The address is www.townofgilead.blogspot.com and there are links to pages for the Selectmen, Planning Board and CPC.

Greenwood City

I was hoping to ease up on keeping a wood fire, but have given up on that thought. Going to have another supply put in I think. Have to get kindling in this week. Ray did a terrific job of bringing a supply while I entertained the pups. But this wind and cold is eating up the supply.

Ray took the clippers to Andy on Friday. Instead of a roly-poly little pup, he's a slim and trim lazy puppy. Andy loves to be in a lap any time. And Friday night, dad covered Andy up and Andy stayed in place till he was forced to get up. On Saturday evening, Ray called me with his cell-phone. He didn't want to disturb the two dust mops. They were protecting his lap from becoming a vacant lot. And you know what happens to vacant lots?

The colds continued into the week. Anita scared my fever into receding Tuesday evening. Said she was going to take me to ER and the fever went down in less than a heartbeat. Needless to say the coughing and hacking has continued.

Friday, Anita had the annual physical at Martin's Point. I usually wait in the waiting room for her, but Friday morning was a nice one to just sit in the car and have a nap. Sun was shining in and life was good.

Even still it was interesting to watch the questionable things walk by. I still can't figure out if any were humans, robots, or from outer-space someplace. One went by that had spiked purple hair, purple leather jacket, pink flip flops and a face that would stop a speeding missile. Then here comes a mother with two sons, or at least I would presume so. Both had oversized ball caps that had to be held in exact place as the breeze was the enemy. That exact spot was yet to be determined, as they kept moving the caps as the breeze moved them. Most of the time it was cocked off center about four bricks and up about two. Then there were the customary chains, whips and assorted trinkets to weigh down the dungarees. Can't say what they had on their feet as they were covered by loose dungaree legs. And it is true that they are called the "Y" generation. I guess the parents must be letting them express their individuality.

Then I have to say this so that Hazel will be just a bit peeved. Yes Hazel, we had lunch at Cole Farms in Gray. Good as always. Then time we got home, Anita had to rush off to the Legion. Al had made chili and the rest of the usual crew helped out. As usual the bingo crowd cleaned out the goodies. Doesn't seem to matter how much Anita prepares and plans for, but it all goes. But then again Al does makes pretty good chili for a rookie.

Saturday morning we were up and gone early. Went to Top Furniture and investigated the plasma TV they had on sale as a promo. Still no HD television, but Anita did buy a very good stand for when we do get the 42-inch flat screen. Guess that is putting the cart before the horse.

Did some comparison shopping on marine batteries and a few others. Anita could not find three things in Wal-Mart in Gorham that is in Oxford. Go figure that one.

Then we just had to go to the Northland for lunch. Wicked good as always. Course I have to keep them in practice with their fresh strawberry pie. A day without fresh strawberry pie is like a day without sunshine.

On the way back home, we were held up in traffic for the Route 2 accident. Traffic was backed up to Bog Brook. We waited for a few minutes and I went up to talk to the Traffic Control Engineer. He was no other than the husband of Lin who writes for Gilead. Hugh and I had a good time talking and were joined by one of the railroad workers. Didn't catch his name but lives just past Oscar Annis. The road was going to be closed for some time to go. There was a tractor trailer that went over the embankment just before we went up through in the morning. Knew the troopers there on scene and Gilead FD was on scene too. Under the circumstances, it was a pleasure to meet Hugh. Asked him to say hi to Kenny Cole for me. We turned around and made our way down the North Road and home.

Just arrived home and Anita received a call from Bruce and had to rush off to Auburn. So needless to say we didn't get to the benefit. But we were told it went very well. Dorene said she won two items from the raffle and was going to make very good use of both. Watch out "Good Food Store and Western Maine Supply."

Ray tells me that my nephew has been out back of his house in Dixfield fishing in the Webb River several times. Now that house is almost in Carthage and the Webb River has to be darn cold and swift this time of year. But a bad day of fishin' is a lot better any good week of work. Guess we have to get the canoe patched and up to Zack. Course Ray and I are reserving the right to use the canoe anytime as long as Zack is doing the paddling.

Think sun, warm temperatures, fishin' and go Red Sox!

The Selectmen's meeting started at 7:16 p.m. when Norm Mercier arrived. The treasurer's warrant and the school warrants were accepted and signed.

Jim Rector and Leslie Aron will be job sharing until Jim has fully recovered from surgery.

Selectmen have approved the following salary increases: bookkeeper, $1,900; town clerk, $1,600; registrar of voters, $800; tax collector, $3,500; and treasurer, $2,300.

Rod accepted the position as head selectman noting that he expected the three of them to share the workload. Rod and Norm were approved as back-up drivers for the town's equipment. They agreed to replace some of the town's locks with combination locks, discussed the need to have personal equipment removed from town property, made plans to pressure wash and oil the truck and sander, and discussed the need to replace two culverts. Rod and Norm are searching for a backhoe, and they are getting quotes to replace the broken windshield in the plow truck.

Sam Grondin resigned his position as transfer station attendant and Kenny Gibbons was hired for the job. Reappointment to positions were: John Percival as CEO, Virgil Konkright as plumbing inspector, Horace Goodrum as animal control officer and Wilma Rector as health officer.

The Planning Board needs both alternate and full-fledged members. Selectmen voted to hold off these appointments until the next meeting after receiving recommendations from the current board. People interested in these positions should contact Joe Bernier, chairman of the Planning Board and/or the selectmen. The next selectmen's meeting will be May 7 at 7 p.m.

We enjoyed a visit from Joe Bergeron and his girlfriend, Stephanie, both from Farmington. They didn't mind the trek in the mud from Joe's house to ours.

My friend, Dan, did not enjoy listening to the MLB games on Saturday and Sunday nearly as much as I did, since he's a NYX fan.

On June 5, 1913, the Upton Ladies Aid Association became a corporation with the purposes of "religious, benevolent, and social aid." Bertha Peaslee was president, Ida Warren was vice president, Lettie Douglass was second vice president, Bertha Judkins was "Secretary or clerk" and Mary Chase was treasurer. These same women were "directors or trustees" and signed the corporation certificate before Hollis Abbott, Justice of the Peace. On Sept. 2, 1914, they purchased the land (on which their building now sits) for $1 from Hollis Abbott. Selah.

Andover

by Melinda Averill

Hello Andover readers. I hope that everyone is enjoying this nice week of weather; finally a little melting going on! Next week is school vacation, let's hope it is a warm one. (Personally, I think that the local school districts should spend a couple of days of April vacation making up some of those snow days.) Let's be real, the last week of school is spent doing very little academically, and when it's pushed farther into the end of the month, with warm weather and the Fourth of July just around the corner, I'm sure the kids aren't focused on school work and tests.) Just my point of view for the week.

I would like to express my sympathy to my neighbors, Carol and Jere Melzar, in the passing of her mother, Alma "Marion" Horne, on Saturday, April 12. She had moved to Andover from Massachusetts in 1996, after retiring. Marion, who was 93, had left school to support her family during the depression and was a devoted wife, mother and grandmother. Besides her daughter, she is survived by two grandchildren, four great-grandchildren, and many nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be private at a later date.

Sign-ups are now being taken for town ball teams. Slips are available at the stores, and the town office. Anticipation teams are as follows: 1) T-Ball, ages 4 to 6 boys and girls; 2) Farm Team baseball, ages 6 to 10. GRCC rules state that all 10-year-old boys and girls try out for Little League baseball, before being placed on a Farm team; 3) Farm team softball, ages 6 to 10 girls; 4) Little League softball, girls ages 11 to 13; 5) Little League baseball girls and boys ages 9 to 12; 6) Senior League softball girls ages 14 to 19. In recent years Andover girls played on a Rumford team due to a lack of coach or players; 7) Babe Ruth baseball ages 13 to 15. Ages are all as of April 30 of this year. Games begin in mid-May and continue until late July.

Happy birthday this week to Joel Putnam on April 22, and Madison Papiannou on the 22nd.

Get well wishes to "Moe" Gagnon, who was in the hospital last weekend, not feeling well.

Also a happy wish out to Colby Roberts, who also hasn't been feeling well the past few weeks. Last Monday evening, the brothers of the K. of P. Lodge in Andover all gathered in their formal wear before their weekly meeting, and dropped in to visit with Colby. They brought him a nice sunshine basket.

Members of the Telstar High School softball team are traveling to North Carolina over April vacation to do a little extra ball playing. Varsity players from Andover are Julia Stambolis, Candace Hall and Whitney Mills.

Have a nice weekend.

Hanover

The Hanover Town Office staff traveled to Waterville on April 9 to attend classes for Notary Public servers. The Notary service is provided at the Hanover Town Office for Hanover area residents.

A baby shower took place last Saturday for Sara Clark and her twin daughters, Makala and Shawnee Worcester. The shower was at the Mexico Town Office and was well attended with many nice gifts for the babies.

Frank and Marie Morrison have returned home following several months in a warmer climate.

Also returning to the area is David Wainwright.

Sympathy is extended to Raymond Durgan and family upon the passing of his wife, Katherine Hebert.

The Hanover Select Board meeting will be Tuesday, April 22, at the Town Office starting at 6 p.m.

A little bit of snow melting has taken place over the past week. It is still impossible to look out the windows of some houses. Not only that, where the snow has melted there is a great supply of mud.

One night recently a barred owl was hooting his spring hello. Always a pleasure to listen to!

The WVSC has quite a new slate of officers for the 2008-2009 season. Brad Wight is president; Ed Powers, vice president; Dave Bonney, secretary and Bruce Pierce safety director; Bobby Lowell continues as treasurer and Leon Dunn remains trail master. The officers will meet on May 4 before the summer break and will resume meetings in the fall.

Frank and Bea Lowell are both recovering from a cold as with Bea and pneumonia with Frank. He is recovering well, and I hear is already out doing work. Always a lot to do this time of the year. While talking with Bea, I could hear her clock strike a bird call. She said this was a gift and each hour plays a different bird call. In my opinion that is one terrific gift.

Karlene Bachelder's sister, Wilma of Unity, went home last week. On Thursday she visited with them for a week. Another friend, Mary Gross of Jefferson, N.H., also visited them for a week. Nana told me that they had a wonderful time and saw many people as After dinner, the three of them attended a concert at Gould Academy. On Friday they drove to the Route 2 Diner in South Rumford for breakfast. This is where Wilma and Debbie parted with Karlene. They are back in Unity and Karlene to Newry.

Speaking of Polly, I just received their brochure telling about the Mahoosuc Guide Service Spring/Summer/Fall Canoe trips for 2008. If any readers are interested, you may call Polly or Kevin for more information at 824-2073 or fax at 824-3784.

Seeing and reading of Frank Vogt's grouse attack in The Citizen and the bite he received from the grouse, reminded me of the many talks we used to have about birds. Funny how we both have been bitten this year. Mine was from the pine grosbeak.

Speaking of birds, I have noticed the return of a flock of redpolls, juncos and a phoebe. Jason and Sarah Berry have moved into their new home on the Lone Pine Road.

Retta Berry has returned from visiting her daughter, Mandy, in Del Ray, Fla.

Nana and John Wight have returned from a month-long stay in South Daytona Beach, Fla. While there, Peter and Darlene Baker from Hanover visited with them for a week. Another friend, Mary Gross of Jefferson, N.H., also visited them for a week. Nana told me that they had a wonderful time and saw many people as well as enjoyed the sunshine. Nana told me she is quite tanned.

I hadn't seen Clayton Crockett for many years until I saw him last week, first at Wal-Mart in Mexico and again on Saturday at Rite Aid in Bethel.

I am adding my belated birthday wishes to Polly Mahoney — and may you have many, many more.

Error, Error, Error! The Awana's banquet is being held tomorrow night instead of last Friday, as I said before. Starting time is still 5 p.m. And I'm pretty sure it's spaghetti. Everyone is still invited.

Tina Farrington is back from a well-deserved vacation in Florida. She had a great time.

Thanks to her son Perry and her daughter Donna, Marge Stinson was able to visit with an old friend, Anita Vance, in Brunswick over the weekend.

Recipe of the week: Brownie Peanut Butter Cups. You will need 1 box brownie mix, 1/3 cup very hot water, 1/4 cup oil, 1 egg, 12 mini peanut butter cups. Heat oven to 350. Line 12 muffin cups with muffin papers. In large bowl, combine brownie mix, water, oil, egg, beat 60 strokes with spoon. Fill muffin cups 2/3 full. Press peanut butter cup into batter until top edge of candy is even with batter. Bake 20-30 minutes or until brownie is set. Do not over-bake. Makes 12 cupcakes.

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

Where has all the snow gone? It is melting away as fast as it arrived. My purple crocuses are blooming, but only one yellow one so far. They push up through the frozen leaves next to the snow banks and glow and smile in the sunshine.

The giant Snowwoman in Bethel is beginning to shrink and fall apart. It has been a great attraction for Bethel.

The snow in back of the garage has shrunk enough to let me get into my tiny camper. All is well inside, for the caulking of the back window prevented any leaking. And there were no mice nests or droppings as the plugs around the pipes and the moth balls did their job too. In another six weeks, believe it or not, the camping areas will be open. Then we can complain with the heat.

At the West Paris Universalist Church on Sunday, April 20, the minister, The Rev. Richard Beal will be in Transylvania. "Passaglia," the musical team with Grace Lewis McClaren will grace the pulpit with words and music. All are welcome.

The supper/dances started at the Locke Mills Legion Hall and will run on the second Tuesday of each month for the summer. For the month of April the band was "Fading Memories." Ivan Proctor, formerly of West Paris, is a member of the band. I attended with Donna and Owen Melville, Dorene Merrill and Beryl Bonney.

The West Paris Cottontops are again walking their two miles three times a week. Several are back from the South. It has been too slippery with the narrow roads so I have not walked alone for three months. The scales tell me I have gained about five pounds. I'll have to get more active and do extra mileage.

When we walked Friday someone had hit a deer overnight in front of Beryl Bonney's. Gratefully someone removed it before the school children arrived. Many deer cross there often. They live on Berry's Ledge or beyond in the woods and are out feeding during the nights.

All is well with Muffin. She begs for canned cat food every time I go into the kitchen. She only gets a little at a time for more does not sit well in her tummy.

At last, the signs of spring are unmistakable! Bits of bare ground are appearing between snowdrifts, and lots of birds are back. Last week robins arrived by the hundreds; sparrows abound, and at least a couple woodcocks returned. Mona wanted me to be sure and mention the northern flicker that landed on our deck, walked over and peered in the window. Last Tuesday, I even heard a partridge drummer announcing that this young bird's fancy has turned to love! The deer have also come out of the woods on the Flat Road and are grazing the patches of bare ground by the dozens on the Merrills' farmstead afternoons and evenings.

Big Sister Verna's son, Skip Thayer, flew in from Pittsburgh and spent the weekend with her. They made several road trips so Skip could get photos of all our April snow and cell phone the images to his kids around the country. I think Verna is glad of the chance to rest up after so busy a weekend. Skip watches lots of TV and naturally turns off both the TV and satellite systems when he leaves; then Verna can't figure out how to get the system to work again! I managed to get it up and running, so she can find her favorite stations — especially NESN, so she can watch Red Sox baseball!

I found a quote in this month's Bits & Pieces magazine that is especially applicable for this, being tax week. "All money nowadays seems to be produced with a natural homing instinct for the Treasury." Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh.

The snow is not completely gone, but a lot of the ice is gone from our road. The school bus makes its way back down the road and the cars are not parked at the end of the road making travel even more difficult. We are speaking of a neighborhood association when the snow/ice are all gone. Just Rite Acre residents pay attention for details.

On Sunday, the 6th, David and I and Sadie went to see the movie "Sicko." It was a real eye-opener. It talked about the healthcare system in our country and used the systems in other countries to compare it to. We are the only industrial nation in the world without some kind of universal healthcare. In our country, if you are poor you better not get sick; especially if you have a house, a family and a job that doesn't offer insurance. The movie showed healthcare in France, Great Britain, Canada, and even Cuba. All have better systems than we do. All have doctors that approve of their systems. We talk about the government taking over the banks, and yet we still do not have access to healthcare unless we have insurance. That has to change. Some of us want to work to make that happen. There will be another meeting at Fare Share Common. Check here for details when they are finalized.

This is National Poetry Month, as I have said before. Mountain Poets and the Norway Library will be holding a Too Cold for the Porch Celebration on Friday, April 18, at 7 p.m. Those wanting to read should be there at 6:30 p.m. to sign up. All are welcome. It should be a fun night. The library will provide refreshments.

The Tax Committee met again Monday night. They are researching the varying taxes for shorefront properties. Area towns have been surveyed. They hope to finalize their work and make a recommendation to the selectmen by the end of May.

I finally found out last night the cause of David Marston's untimely death. For those who have been asking me, David died of a gastric aneurysm. It was unexpected. A funeral service for David will be held May 17.

Wilkins House will hold a potluck supper on April 17 at 6 p.m. All are welcome. Bring your best dish and meet or enjoy the company of your neighbors. The hosts are Ginny and Denny Raymond.

Anyone who knows of a seamstress who can actually make clothes, please let me know. I am in desperate need of new sports bras.

Saturday is the start of Passover. It is a weeklong holiday that celebrates the leaving of Egypt and the crossing to the Promised Land. Maybe this year it will end in Peace in the Middle East.

This past Saturday, the 12th, there was a celebration of the life of Alan Day. It was held at the Harrison Ballroom. There were many there from all over. It was great to see everyone and to speak of Alan and the wonderful person he was.

Have a great spring week and enjoy the sun and warmth that is promised.

From Oxford County Democrats

The Democratic candidates for county offices visited the Statehouse on April 7 with Sheriff Wayne Gallant to lend their support to the Joint Plan to Establish the Maine Jail and Community Corrections System. Paul Dumas of Mexico, candidate for Judge of Probate, Bruce Rood of Norway, candidate for Register of Probate, and Charleen Chase of Bethel, candidate for County Commissioner in District 1, joined Gallant in meeting with Senator Bruce Bryant of Dixfield, Rep. Tim Carter of Bethel, Rep. Sheryl Briggs of Mexico, Rep. Terry Hayes of Buckfield and Rep. John Patrick of Rumford, who is a candidate for County Commissioner in District 2.

Sheriff Gallant has worked with the Maine Sheriff's Association to craft an alternative to Governor Baldacci's original corrections consolidation program that would have eliminated the Oxford County Jail while still costing the county $1.3 million. He pointed out the additional costs of transportation to regional corrections or mental health facilities. The alternative plan does provide for a Board of Corrections to oversee both county and state facilities, and for an emphasis on achieving savings through joint purchases.

BRING OUT YOUR DEAD

In December 2005 The Lords of the Kermec Journal and Morning Sentinel instructed me to write no more columns on Gov. Baldacci's Dringo Health Plan. I declined to do so and they fired me, which they had every right to do. As the only person I know of who has been fired for opinions on health reform, I thought you might like to hear what I had to say.

We all know what a plan is and we all know how to recognize its success - or failure. If you were to set out to visit Paris, France and ended up in Twin Prives, Mississippi, you would be compelled to admit your plan was a failure.

Or maybe not if you were our Masters in Augusta. Back in 2005 I wrote 2 columns for the Journal and Sentinel explaining why the Dringo Health Plan was already a complete failure. This prompted a counter column by Trish Riley.

These are not really controversial proposals; Senator Susan Collins, a moderate, votes 100% of the time for the small businesses. But the labor union bosses don't want small business to prosper, so they issue their marching orders and Michael and Allen dutifully obey.

I'm certain both gentlemen would deny that the fact that they receive hundreds and hundreds of thousands of dollars from the union bosses in any way influences their decision. They have fooled the voters before, and they intend to continue doing so as long as you let them get away with it.

My point is that I predicted the complete failure of the program in 2005, and now the legislature has abandoned all the primary goals and means of Dringo Health. The only thing they've kept is the name.

Having embellished my credentials as a true prophet of a government health scheme, I will now prophesy again.

If the Democrats win the elections this November, Congress will try to impose a plan for universal health care. If adopted, it will reduce costs - it will increase them enormously. The trial lawyers, who give 98% of their money to Democrats like Mike Michaud, will prosper. Providers will be saddled with even more paperwork - paperwork which will not stick a single word, set a single bone, cure even one illness or prolong anyone's life - in fact just the opposite. The government will impose elaborate price controls, which will not work. There will be a growing shortage of doctors. People will be forced to wait longer and longer for health care. Many will die as a result. Nothing to debate here. I will be proven a prophet once more. Or not. Stay tuned.

EXPLORATIONS ART STUDENT WINS AT NATIONAL LEVEL

For more than eight years Arla Patch has been entering her students in the Scholastic Art Awards competition on the state level at Maine College of Art. This year there was no state level venue for the program and that meant her students had no choice but to compete on the national level. At the national level there is only one level of prize: the Gold Key. Out of 6,000 submissions, in the category of "Region-at-Large," only 650 works were awarded a Gold Key, and Katlyn Keane was one of them. She won the award for her sculpture "Wrapped in Rebirth." In the past, when Maine College of Art hosted the competition, students could also be awarded a Silver Key and an Honorable Mention. This award means that Katlyn's sculpture will go on to be juried for possible inclusion in a national exhibit in New York City this summer. Katlyn Keane is a junior at Telstar and started taking Explorations Art classes when she was in third grade. She has won Scholastic Art recognition in Explorations before on the state level, but this is her first national level award.

ing and retains the community service programs which benefit both communities in the county and inmates who are able to earn a reduction in their sentences. Dumas, Rood and Chase expressed their support for the bill.

Following the presentation by Gallant and the county candidates, the legislators announced their support for the proposal. "I have faith in the judgment of our sheriff and in the plan that he has negotiated with his fellow sheriffs, and plan to support it," Sen. Bryant stated. Rep. Carter commented that the jail consolidation bill "worked the way controversial bills should, within the committee of jurisdiction, in this case Criminal Justice, that worked very hard on a solution acceptable to the governor and the sheriffs which I am supporting." Rep. Patrick commented that "I am pleased with the outcome of this issue and the way our sheriff and his association worked it through. Maintaining county jails is important to our citizens."

Following the discussion on the jail plan, Dumas, Rood, Chase and Gallant, as well as Rep. Carter and Sen. Bryant, attended a public hearing of the State and Local Government Committee on LD 2302, which would permit county governments to change to fiscal from calendar year budgets. This idea originated with Rep. Patrick earlier in the year and was submitted as an "after deadline" bill by Representatives Millett, Hayes, Patrick and Sykes. "This change would avoid borrowing $2, or $3 million per year by the county and result in a savings of $50,000 per year," Rep. Patrick stated as he testified in support of the measure.

for local party committees only had to be reported if they totaled more than $1,500 in a calendar year. On contribution limits, he stressed that the contribution limit is $250 per election for traditionally financed legislative and county candidates. He stated that before April 15, individuals could give up to $100 in seed money contributions to Maine Clean Election Act candidates and there was no limit on municipal candidates in towns smaller than 15,000 people. He pointed out that party committees could spend as much as they wish to promote a candidate as long as that spending is independent of the candidate. State cards require three or more candidates for any office. All such candidates should be treated substantially the same and no independent expenditure report is required of a slate card.

An in-kind contribution was defined by Wayne as a gift of goods and services (anything of value other than money) given to a candidate to influence his or her election. Exempt goods and services included volunteerism, campaign events if paid for by a party committee where three or more candidates attend. Also exempt was the use of offices, telephones, computers and similar equipment when that use does not result in additional cost. In addition, lists of registered voters and campaign training sessions for three or more candidates are not considered a contribution.

Following the speaker, Chairman Dan Bolling, introduced candidates in attendance, including Rep. Jim Hamper, (R-Oxford), Rep. Sawin Millett (R-Norway), County Commissioner Steve Merrill of Norway, and former Rep. Rob Cameron of Rumford, who is running for the House again this year.

State Committeewoman Becky Kendall reported on caucuses with many more towns caucusing than usual including Milton Plantation. She also reported advertising for the 2008 State Convention program booklet from Oxford County was coming along well. Volunteers were needed to attend the booth at the State Convention, May 2-3 in Augusta.

State Committeeman Stan Howe of Bethel announced for all those going to the State Convention that he would again host the reception at his room in the Holiday Inn following the county caucus and invited all delegates and alternates present to stop by.

Former State Committee Chair Kathy Watson of Pittsfield was present and asked for delegate support in her race for the national committee woman race to be determined on May 2 at the State Convention.

The next County Committee meeting was announced as a candidate's night on May 13 at the Oxford Advent Church with the dinner sponsored by the Hannibal Hamlin Republican Women's Club.

Free Pilates Demo for Members and Guests

Sue Farrar, former dance teacher, tells us she keeps in shape by doing "Pilates" three times a week. She said she's spoken with many people who don't seem to know what it's all about. Hence, she decided to offer a one-time demonstration for interested WMSC members and their guests. This will be held on Saturday, April 26, from 10 to 11 a.m. at the West Parish Congregational Church, downstairs hall, on Church Street. Sue will demonstrate with a video she's been using for years.

Sue advises us to bring a blanket or a mat to lie on but no pillow. Wear loose pants, a cool cotton top, and socks. No equipment is needed. She says proper breathing is very important and she will show us how to do it.

Here's what Sue has to say about her program. "I'm 90 years old and believe me I'm not perfect, but I know it keeps me strong. Otherwise, how could I get hit by a car while walking and go up in the air six feet and not even break a bone! I do it Monday, Wednesday and Friday the first thing in the morning for only 20 minutes. Then I take my shower and start my day feeling great!"

Interested persons may follow up by obtaining a video of their own or joining a local Pilates group. The program is free of charge. However, advance registration will be appreciated to help with planning. Call R. Tift at 824-2053.

From The Lewin Center

The Lewin Center sponsors educational events and research to further causes of social justice. Its home, at the Gehring House on Broad Street, is also the site of many local meetings, retreats, and educational events.

The April session of the Lewin Forum will feature Dr. Charles Seashore and Edie Seashore, both renowned psychologists and Organization Development specialists.

In the winter '06 issue of Strategy+Business, an article entitled "Masters of the Breakthrough Moment" declared that "For more than 50 years, Edie and Charlie Seashore have been developing and honing the subtle art of helping people learn from difficult conversations."

They are pioneers in, teachers of, and probably the most influential living advocates for the art of the breakthrough moment. Productivity and creativity in the workplace, in their view, occur when members of a group or team wade together into the muck of confusion and unspoken assumptions in order to surface concerns and conflicts that get glossed over in the rush of daily life.

Charlie and Edie's Bethel session is entitled "Interpersonal Effectiveness: the Use of Self." The program will include dinner and an introduction on Friday, April 18, 6:00 p.m., continuing on Saturday, April 19, from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and will be held at the Gehring House, 77 Broad Street in Bethel. A $50 donation is suggested, but any donation is welcome; you may wish to consider sponsoring a slot for another to attend.

For more information or to register, call Nancy Davis at 256-6956 or e-mail nancy@lewincenter.org.

During the month of March 2008 Oxford County Recyclable Solid Waste Commission processed the following:

Recycled 148.63 tons of material.

Recycled 110.13 tons of paper product saving 1,872.21 trees. It takes 17 average-sized trees to make one ton of paper.

Shipped 153.30 tons of material at an estimated sale value of $34,345. Estimated cost to trash the same 153.30 tons of material — $13,797 (based on average tipping and hauling fee of $90 per ton). Estimated avoided cost for March — $48,142.

Shipped 46.69 tons of corrugated cardboard with an estimated sale value of $6,004.

Shipped 42.59 tons of newspapers, magazines and junk mail with an estimated sale value of $4,823.

Shipped 21.15 tons of CODE 2 plastic with an estimated sale value of $14,007.

Shipped 23.26 tons of office paper with an estimated sale value of $4,935.

Shipped 22.02 tons of tin with an estimated sale value of $4,576.

Congratulations to the following recycling teams: G & W for packing three out of three cardboard containers weighing in at over 1,000 pounds, Stoneham/Waterford for packing two containers weighing in over 1,000 pounds, Tri-Town for packing five out of six containers weighing in at over 1,000 pounds, and West Paris for packing two containers weighing in at over 1,000 pounds.

Packing cardboard containers with over 1,000 pounds is time-consuming. Hauling a fully-loaded container to the recycling plant in Norway/Paris is cost efficient for the corporation. We appreciate your efforts.

Congratulations to Tri-Town (Bethel, Hanover, and Newry) and Gould Academy, and Sunday River for saving your taxpayers over $2,952.40 this month.

Congratulations to Stoneham, Waterford, Mason, and Albany for saving your taxpayers over $746.66 this month due to recycling.

Congratulations to West Paris for saving your taxpayers over $740.51 this month due to recycling.

If it's recyclable please put it into the appropriate recycling container in order to continue to save your town hauling and tipping fees.

Thank you for your participation.

From
Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

President Allen Cressy has called a special meeting of the Bethel Historical Society for Saturday, April 19, at the O'Neil Robinson House, 10 Broad Street at 2 p.m. to vote on proposed amendments and changes in the society's bylaws. The draft language includes adding up to six more trustees to the society's Board and the creation of a Development Committee. All members of the society are cordially invited to attend and consider these changes to the bylaws. There will also be a report on the society's plans for the immediate future, which should be of interest to many members.

Advance copies of the by-law changes can be obtained by visiting the main office at the Robinson House, 10 Broad Street or calling 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910 for further information.

With over 1,440 members, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations. For over 40 years, the society's activities have included lectures, exhibits, special events, heritage festivals, family reunions, workshops, conferences, school and educational programs, and publications. In 1974, the society acquired the former Broad Street residence of Dr. Moses Mason, which now contains a period house museum, exhibit hall and research library.

American Life in Poetry

Selection and comments by Ted Kooser, U.S. Poet Laureate 2004-2006

Bad news all too often arrives with a ringing telephone, all too early in the morning. But sometimes it comes with less emphasis, by regular mail. Here Allan Peterson of Florida gets at the feelings of receiving bad news by letter, not by directly stating how he feels but by suddenly noticing the world that surrounds the moment when that news arrives.

The Inevitable

To have that letter arrive was like the mist that took a meadow and revealed hundreds of small webs once invisible. The inevitable often stands by plainly but unnoticed till it hands you a letter that says death and you notice the weed field had been readying its many damp handkerchiefs all along.

11 a.m. — Bethel Senior Citizens Club luncheon/meeting will be held at the Alder River Grange Hall in East Bethel. Speaker will be Ed Howe, who will talk about the Forest Service.

Saturday, May 17

7 p.m. — An Evening of Melody, a benefit concert for Melody Bonnama featuring Jewel Clark, Donnie Katlin, Ross Timberlake, Paul Farrar, Conni St. Pierre Pat Malia, Amy Green, Tony Andrews, Sammy Chapman, Rolly York, Jim McLaughlin, Doug Alford. At Bingham Hall Auditorium, Gould Academy. Tickets, $10. All proceeds benefit the Bonnemas. FMI: call 824-2517 or 824-3246.

Saturday, May 24

9 a.m. to 4 p.m. — St. Never's Day Sale at Bethel Historical Society. Usable items needed. FMI: call 824-2908.

Tuesday, May 27

12 to 3:30 p.m. — Kindergarten registration for the Legion Memorial School, West Paris for any child who will be five before Oct. 15. Please call 674-2332. Parents will need to bring a copy of the child's birth certificate, an immunization record and a copy of a recent physical examination for registration.

It's always wise to call ahead

Listings in The Citizen's weekly Community Calendar are compiled from a wide variety of sources. While we do our utmost to ensure the reliability of the information presented here, we recognize that when dealing with such a large volume of material, some inaccuracies will occasionally creep in. And in other cases, a sponsoring organization's plans may change between the time The Citizen is printed and the event is held. Accordingly, we strongly urge our readers to call ahead to verify the details of any event they plan to attend. Doing so will greatly reduce the chance of disappointment or needless inconvenience.

From S.W.O.A.M.

Maintaining boundary lines is the topic of the April 26 meeting of the western Maine chapter of the Small Woodland Owners Association of Maine. State Forester Merle Ring likes to remind landowners of Ben Franklin's advice that "Good fences make good neighbors." He also said that making sure your boundaries are defined is the first step before any harvest begins.

Well marked and maintained woodlot boundary lines benefit landowners in many ways, including helping to prevent trespass across their lines from abutting logging operations," Ring said. This is the chapter's first outdoor meeting of the season and will focus on finding old lines and corners. The discussion will also include landowner boundary rights.

Coffee and doughnuts will be available at 8:30 a.m. at Bill Haynes' sawmill on the Sweden Road off Route 35/37.

Chapter meetings are free and open to all. For more information, contact Merle Ring at 674-3787 or Bill Haynes at 583-2963.

From White Mountain National Forest

White Mountain National Forest has completed a proposed five-year Recreation Facility Analysis for 171 developed recreation sites across the forest. This analysis is part of a nationwide Forest Service effort to help better manage recreation infrastructure on national forests.

According to Rebecca Qreskes, the forest's Public Services team leader, "The overall goal of the process is to help us provide the best possible recreation sites within our available resources."

Other goals include improving visitor satisfaction; providing recreation opportunities consistent with the forest's recreation niche; operating and maintaining a financially sustainable recreation site program; and eliminating deferred maintenance.

From the analysis the forest is proposing the following:

Maintain or increase services at 114 recreation sites; reduce services and/or facilities at 21 sites; seek partnerships for help in operating three facilities; remove 20 sites and rehabilitate the areas to a natural condition.

Forest Supervisor Tom Wagner says "We are proposing a five-year program of work to implement the Analysis findings. This is an important part of our recreation program and a step in implementing the Forest Plan. I encourage people to review and comment on the proposal."

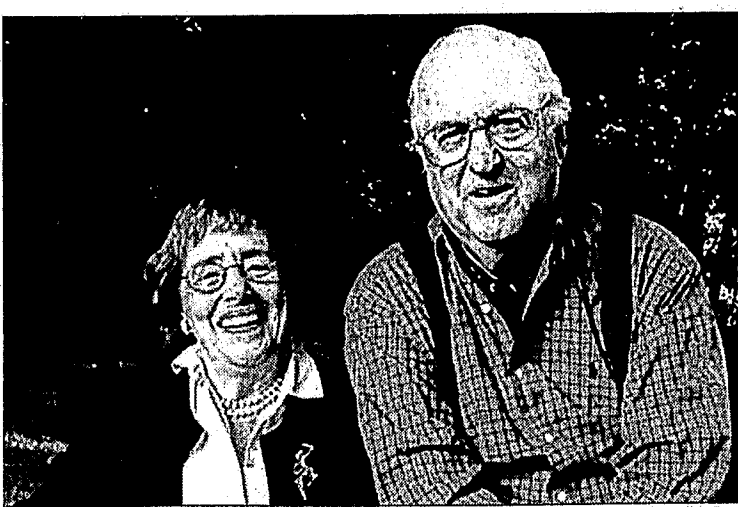

Comments must be received by May 16. After public comment, any necessary changes will be made to the Program of Work and implementation will begin.

For more information, contact Marianne Leberman, Recreation & Wilderness Program Leader, at 719 N Main Street, Laconia, NH 03246; (603) 528-8751; or wmnfplan@fs.fed.us.

Maine Handicapped Skiing

The 23rd annual Maine Handicapped Skiing Ski-A-Thon raised $288,555 in pledges

SEASHORES PRESENTERS FOR LEWIN FORUM—Charlie and Edie Seashore, psychologists and organization development specialists, will be presenters for the Lewin Forum Friday, April 18 and Saturday, April 19. The program will be held at the Gehring House, 77 Broad Street, and will begin with a supper and introductory session from 6 to 9 p.m. Friday and conclude with a morning session from 8:30 to 12:30 on Saturday (see the Lewin Center column for additional information).

on Saturday, March 29, at Sunday River Ski Resort and Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Center. The event brought over 700 participants and volunteers together to show support for Maine's largest year-round adaptive recreation program.

MHS offers free lessons to over 250 children and adults with physical disabilities in alpine skiing, snowboarding, Nordic skiing, snowshoeing, cycling, paddling and golf.

The Ski-A-Thon welcomes teams of skiers and riders from all over Maine and New England to a day of great skiing highlighted with fun races, obstacle courses, free massages, finishing with an evening banquet and live music.

At this year's Ski-A-Thon the awards banquet was kicked off with a slide show of the Maine Handicapped Skiing season, including shots from that day's events. The 110-percent award was then presented to Sally Trenholm, long-time volunteer, board member and supporter of MHS.

Otten Team, this year's top fundraiser, raising $29,980, earned a ski and lodging packet for five at an eastern ski resort.

Les Otten, team captain of Otten team, and one of the original visionaries of Maine Handicapped Skiing won the top individual fundraising prize, raising $22,0750.

Lift tickets and trail passes for the event were donated by Sunday River Ski Resort, and the Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Center. For more information about the Ski-A-Thon or to receive information on volunteering or participating with the recreation program, please contact Maine Handicapped Skiing at (800) 639-7770 or info@skimhs.org. DALE ALLEN HALEY

Dale Allen Haley, 68, of Largo, Fla., passed away on Monday, March 24, 2008 at home with family by his side, after a long and courageous battle with bladder cancer.

Dale was born on Dec. 30, 1939, in Hillsboro, Ill., the only child of George Vincent Haley and Dorothy Elpha Redding-Haley. He graduated from Hillsboro High School in 1958.

He enlisted in the U.S. Army for six years. He was a radio controller in the Korean War, and stationed at Fort Dix, N.J., and a member of the color guard. He worked for Honeywell for 17 years as a computer programmer. He married Kathryn E. Pray of Auburn, and was self-employed at Unique Software, a computer business that consulted and developed programs for other businesses. He loved anything to do with computers and taught himself seven computer languages. He loved his children and adored his grandchildren, who he visited often. He lived in Maine and New Hampshire most of his life and moved to Florida after he retired in 2004.

He is survived by his cousin, Marlene and Kenny Christian; children, David L. Haley and his wife Wanda (Angel) Haley of Pinellas Park, Fla., Millie Z. Viers of Largo, Fla., Timothy J. Phyllis started volunteering at Elm Street School when her daughter, Dee, was in fourth grade. She was later hired as an educational technician and worked there for many years. She loved working with children and had high expectations for those that she worked with. They seemed drawn to her in a nononsense manner and loved her back.

She is survived by her children, Charles Stone of Belgrade, Betty Faulkingham and husband Lewis of Bryant Pond, Rusty Paine and husband Stephen of Oxford, Penny Roberts and companion, Peter Muliolis of Oxford, Franklin Stone, Jr. of Mechanic Falls, and Dee Robinson and husband Kenneth of Mechanic Falls; a granddaughter, Lee Chretien, of Hebron who lived with her for several years; and several other grandchildren and great-grandchildren; and her sister, Elizabeth Snell of Florida. The family would like to thank Dr. David Kumaki, the staff at Norway Rehabilitation and Living Center, the staff at Stephens Memorial Hospital, and the caregivers of Androscoggin Home Care and Hospice for the exceptional love and care given to our mother.

A celebration of her life will be held on Sunday, April 20 from 2 to 4 p.m. at Elm Street School in Mechanic Falls. Remembrance donations can be made to Norway Rehabilitation and Living Center, 29 Marion Avenue, Norway, ME 04268. Online condolences may be shared with her family at www.westonchandler.com.

Weddings

Mr. & Mrs. Aaron J. Carlson

Michelle Lee Inman and Aaron John Carlson were united on Oct. 5, 2007, by the Hon. Keith Powers. The Dunegrass Golf Club in Old Orchard Beach was the site for a sunset ceremony and reception on a beautiful and rare 75-degree fall evening. Mike Inman asked for blessings on the union while Sheila Carlson and June Inman acted as witnesses for the event.

Rick Graves from Presque Isle served as the best man and Christina Gerber of Portland and Nicole Cyr of Madawaska were matrons of honor. Groomsmen included Rich Drummond of Windham, Steve Violette of Biddeford and Brian Inman of Bethel.

Susan Giambalvo of Scarborough and Erica Cormier of Bethel served as bridesmaids. Michelle was blessed to have both maternal and paternal grandparents sharing the event. The couple hosted a BBQ at their home the next day to complete the weekend.

They enjoyed an amazing honeymoon that started in Venice, Italy and continued on to Croatia, Turkey, Greece and ended in Boston just in time to catch Game Six of the baseball playoffs.

Aaron and Michelle have settled in their home in Westbrook and look forward to expanding their family and cheering the Sox on to many more world championships together.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott M. Degen

The marriage ceremony of Lauri Marie Littlefield of Bethel and Scott Matthew Degen of Bethel took place on Dec. 22, 2007 at the West Bethel Union Church in West Bethel. The bride was escorted down the aisle by her brother-in-law, Lenny Hoy of Greenwood. Daughter of the bride, Jessica Reichenbach of Presque Isle, was matron of honor, while Ruth Howe of Bryant Pond, served as bridesmaid, both wearing midnight blue floor-length skirts and pewter-colored portrait collar blouses. Niece of the groom, Jessica Degen of Auburn, was a junior bridesmaid wearing a burgundy velvet tea-length gown, and Peyton Reichenbach, 16-month-old granddaughter of the bride, was the flower girl looking adorable in a midnight blue velvet dress.

John Lynch, friend of the groom of Danvers, Mass., was best man while brother Jim Degen of Auburn, was the usher. Xander Reichenbach, 2-1/2 year-old grandson of the bride was the perfect ringbearer. Church minister John Williams was the officiant.

Family and friends from Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and Maryland enjoyed a beautiful snowflake-themed dinner reception at the Town and Country Motor Inn in Shelburne, N.H.

Floral arrangements consisting of burgundy calla lilies, Christmas greens, snowflake poms and Star of Davids were beautifully designed by Pooh Corner Farms, Sally Smith of Locke Mills made the wonderful snowflake cake, while Carey Bolsema was the event photographer.

Lauri is the daughter of Richard and Neta Littlefield of Bethel and Scott is the son of the late Collen Elizabeth Degen of Auburn.
